

Throwback to my Royal Holloway College chapel choir days – what an extraordinary privilege and experience ...not least because at that time (1976-1979) it was an unauditioned choir, just perfect for a mere history undergraduate to slide in under the radar and with the chance to sing in the same choir as some very talented musicians (Susan Bullock, Roger Wright to name but two!) It opened my eyes to a vast repertoire of cathedral style chamber choral music of which I had little or no knowledge. Thought I had gone to heaven when this number came up. Utterly sublime.

From Alisdair Wilson